

Statistics of Licensing under Export Control Reform
October 15, 2013 to March 31, 2017

The license applications for items in the 18 categories of the United States Munitions List (USML) showed an overall average decline of 55.6 % from 4,308 to 1,911 per month through March 31, 2017. The average monthly drop of 2,397 in license applications is the result of certain items that do not warrant control on the USML transitioning to the Commerce Control List (CCL). The biggest drop in license applications was those impacted by the Fourth ECR Transition Rule for satellites with a 82.0% decline. The Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC) of the U.S. Department of State estimates a 45% decline in license applications will be shown when all USML categories have been reviewed.

From October 15, 2013 to March 31, 2017, BIS has processed a total of 44,811<sup>1</sup> applications for 600-series and 9x515 items.

- Approved applications were 39,734, 88.7% of the total applications;
- Returned without action (RWA) were 4,900, 10.9% of the total; and
- Denied applications were 177 applications, 0.4% of the total.

<sup>1</sup> Note: The number for the total applications is slightly smaller than the sum of applications by each rule because each license application almost always contains multiple ECCNs that may be associated with more than one ECR rules. For instance, a single application containing 9A610 and 0A606 items would be counted in both the 1st rule column and the 2nd rule column.
